PART FOUR

Management System at the UHK

Article 14

Management Principles at the UHK

- 1) The principle of a single senior manager is applied at all levels of management. The senior manager may set up temporary advisory bodies and working teams to address specific issues in management of their section. Only this employee assigns, supervise and accepts tasks from the subordinate staff and is entitled to evaluate those employees. Awarding any extra reward or making another employment contract at the UHK is subject to countersignature by the given employee's direct superior. Managerial staff at all management levels pay consistent attention to assurance and assessment of quality of activities that belong within their scope of powers and responsibilities.
- 2) An essential part of the management activity of academic officers and other UHK executives is a system of meetings at which directed tasks are assigned for which time limits are set. The form of the minutes of these meetings is decided by the executive who convened the meeting.
- 3) Employees are sent for business trips by their immediate superior to perform the assigned tasks. Employees are obliged, upon return from the business trip, to inform adequately their superior who ordered the business trip of the business trip results.
- 4) Taking a holiday by the UHK employees at the units, Rectorate, special facilities, and other workplaces is approved by their direct superior.

Article 15

System of Managing Acts at the UHK

- 1) The aim of managing acts is to determine the division of activities, organisational and department structure, to set norms for the processes and activities performed at the UHK, to set information flows in the management process and other measures.
- 2) The managing acts of the UHK self-governing academic bodies and the other UHK academic officials are formulated by Article 17 of the Constitution of the UHK.
- 3) The managing acts of the self-governing academic bodies of faculties and the other academic officials of faculties are formulated by their Constitutions. The UHK managing acts give precedence to, in the following order:
 - Generally binding regulations of the Czech Republic,
 - Departmental managing acts,
 - Constitution of the UHK and other UHK internal regulations.

- 4) The binding nature of managing acts for the organisational units and for the UHK staff is given by the authorisation of the UHK executives to manage, organise or supervise the relevant activities in accordance with the Constitution of the UHK.
- 5) Uniform records of managing acts issued at the UHK level are maintained by the Rector's Office and at the faculty level by the Dean's Office.

Article 16

Competence Disputes

Should a dispute arise as to the performance of an activity or responsibility for an activity not specifically mentioned in the Rules for the Internal Governance of the UHK or any other applicable organisational or governing rule, the dispute is decided by the immediate common superior of the management entities within whose activities the dispute arises. In the case of doubt the Rector decides the dispute.

Article 17

Acting as a Deputy

- 1) The Rector, other academic officers and executives may, within their scope of activity, authorise their subordinate staff in writing for individual cases or activities to act on behalf of the UHK, or on behalf of a constituent part in the case of internal meetings. Such authorisation empowers an authorised person to carry out acts within the extent of the authorisation only and may be retracted at any time. The authorised person is fully responsible for exceeding the authorisation. The person who granted the authorisation is also responsible for the consequences of the acts performed by the authorised person within the framework of the authorisation.
- 2) Academic officers and other executives are required to entrust an employee to act as a deputy for them in full or limited extent of powers in their absence.
- 3) In the case of acting as a deputy for longer than four weeks, the direct superior of the deputised employee grants a written authorisation to act as a deputy and determine other rights, obligations and personal responsibilities under the applicable regulations. In this case, the person acting as a deputy is entitled to a management premium and responsibility bonus, as defined in Article 10 of the UHK Wages Regulation.
- 4) Acting as a deputy for the Rector is defined in Section 10, Paragraph 4 of the Act, Article 18, Paragraph 2 of the Constitution of the UHK and by these Organisational and Internal Rules, acting as a deputy for the Dean is defined in Section 28, Paragraph 5 of the Act and by the Constitution of the relevant faculty.

Article 18

Delegating and Accepting Posts

- 1) Delegating and accepting managerial posts and posts associated with material responsibility is done principally in writing on a form published on the University website.
- 2) The delegating persons identify and evaluate the state and results of the activity for which they are responsible and identify shortcomings and defects, if appropriate. Delegation of the post is stated in the protocol of delegation, which is signed by the delegating person and the delegated person and approved by the superior staff member. The protocol of delegation is drawn up in at least five counterparts. The delegating employee receives one counterpart, the delegated employee receives one counterpart, the superior staff member receives two counterparts, and two counterparts are handed over to the Human Resources and Payroll Office, which places them in the personal files of the delegating and delegated employee.
- 3) Should, for serious reasons, there be no delegation and acceptance of the post within a reasonable time (one month), the superior staff member decides on how to proceed.
- 4) The inventory is done upon a change of employees with material responsibility. Upon delegation and acceptance of a post related to material responsibility (under a material responsibility agreement regarding protection of things of value which have been entrusted to the employee), the record of an extraordinary inventory is an integral part of the protocol.
- 5) The Rector and the Dean at the relevant faculty, according to their powers, determine the method of delegation of the post in cases where the procedure referred to in paragraphs 1 to 4 can not be followed.

Article 19

Right to Sign

- 1) The right to sign on behalf of the UHK is associated with legal effects for the UHK in contact with the MEYS, other public authorities and other legal and natural persons.
- 2) The Rector signs all documents relating to the UHK unless he/she delegates such power in writing to other employees and unless otherwise stated in the following paragraphs of this Article. In the absence of the Rector, the Vice-Rectors act on behalf of the UHK to the same extent as the Rector, each of them individually, under a written decision of the Rector. This is without prejudice to Article 4 of these Rules for the Internal Governance and Article 18, Paragraph 2, item (b) of the Constitution of the UHK.
- 3) The Bursar signs documents sent to the MEYS and other public authorities within the scope of his/her duties and other documents within the scope of his/her economic, management and administrative activities at the UHK at all levels. Documents sent to other legal and natural persons are signed by the Bursar in accordance with the duties stipulated by the Act and these Rules. The Rector is notified of any important documents signed by the Bursar.
- 4) Vice-Rectors, the Chancellor, Heads of Units of the UHK, executives of special facilities and other workplaces of the UHK, and the Internal Auditor sign documents within the scope of their duties for internal relations, relations with public authorities, economic and other legal and natural persons and provide a copy thereof to the attention of their immediate superior.

- 5) The documents submitted for the Rector's signature are initialled by the Vice-Rector, the Bursar or the Chancellor depending on the area of activities of these employees (see Annex 2 to these Rules for the Internal Governance).
- 6) The Rector signs all contracts, unless stated otherwise. The Dean signs only on behalf of the UHK contracts binding on the faculty.
- 7) The Bursar is authorised to sign binding contracts with a total liability up to CZK 500,000. For contracts concluded for an indefinite period, the expected annual payments for the first four years of the contract effect are added to the limit.

- 8) The heads of departments and sections of the Rectorate, the heads of departments, or directors of faculty institutes, the director or head of workplaces with a university-wide scope of activity are authorised to sign contractual obligations with a total performance amount of up to CZK 100,000. For contracts concluded for an indefinite period, the expected annual payments for the first four years of the contract effect are added to the limit. The provisions of this paragraph apply only to contracts covered by the budget appropriations for the given workplace of the given calendar year.
- 9) Article 19, Paragraphs 6 to 8 also concerns the termination or modification of the relevant contractual relationship.
- 10) If the person authorized to sign is personally interested in the discussed matter, relevant documents must be signed by such person's deputy. "Personal interest" means, in particular, such interest that would result in increase of property, economic or other advantage, or in preventing any potential decrease of economic and other advantage, or another advantage of the person authorized to sign, to a person close to him/her, or to a legal entity controlled by the person authorized to sign or by a person close to him/her.
- 11) Other issues related to conclusion of contractual relationships are governed by the respective managing acts.
- 12) Competent relevant employees approve, in accordance with the managing acts governing the internal control system and the circulation of accounting documents, invoices to be paid. The Bursar must be notified of invoices of an amount exceeding CZK 100,000.
- 13) All liability relationships with financial performance are documented with a purchase order in the EIS Magion system.
- 14) In case the liability amount exceeds CZK 100,000, it does not suffice to document the liability with an accepted purchase order, but a written agreement has to be made pursuant to the applicable legal regulations. This does not apply to performance the subject of which is to provide catering services or similar performance by the supplier, and also to performance that is a subject of a contract made in form of a pre-formulated standard contract using an Internet e-shop under the condition that the UHK does not require any specific conditions for the given obligation (e.g., longer guarantee period) and that the amount of the obligation does not exceed the value of a category 1 public contract set by the internal UHK managing act on public procurement at the UHK.
- 15) The amounts listed in this article are excluding VAT.

Article 20

Right of Disposal

- 1) The Rector and the Bursar, and the originator of a financial operation in accordance with the provisions of Article 19, Paragraphs 6 to 12 have the right of dispose of the UHC funds deposited on accounts with financial institutions in accordance with the rules of financial management and budgetary rules approved by the AS UHK.
- 2) The Rector of the UHK may extend the right of disposal to other UHK senior executives, such as Vice-Rectors, Deans or other employees under a written authorisation. For each financial operation, two signatures of authorised employees are required.

This provision governs the use of the statutory coat of arms of the University of Hradec Králové (hereinafter referred to as the “UHK”) by the University and its constituent parts, entities outside the University, and the protection of the statutory coat of arms of the UHK (hereinafter referred to as the “Coat of Arms”) and the use of the Coat of Arms as a trade mark.

Article 2

Use of the UHK Coat of Arms by the Constituent Parts

The Coat of Arms (pursuant to Article 2, Paragraph 3 and Annex 1 of the Constitution of the UHK) may be used by the UHK and its faculties:

- a) For denoting documents relating to their activities under Article 4 of the Constitution of the UHK, which include:
 - Degrees, certificates and other proofs of study,
 - Official documents and correspondence of academic officers of the UHK, the Bursar and the Chancellor,
 - After addition of the faculty coat of arms within the meaning of Article 2, Paragraph 5 of the Constitution of the UHK and Constitution of faculties, official documents and correspondence of faculty officers and faculty secretaries (should the faculty have no coat of arms, the officers may use the UHK coat of arms only upon addition of the faculty coat of arms or other faculty logo),
 - Journals, scientific publications, course books and university textbooks, information printed documents,
 - Audiovisual programmes and tools,
- b) For denoting commemorative documents, invitations and objects used for representation and promotion purposes of the UHK or its relevant constituent parts,
- c) For denoting the products and services which are the subject of business activities of the UHK or its constituent parts and documents related to those activities.

Article 3

Use of the Coat of Arms by Other Persons

- 1) The coat of arms may be used by third persons subject to a contract to use the coat of arms in which the UHK provides the third party with the right to use such coat of arms.
- 2) The content of these contracts and their performance may not be contrary to the UHK mission or detrimental to its reputation. These contracts shall always include a provision on the right of the UHK to control the use of the coat of arms and on the possibility for the UHK to withdraw from the contract if the other party to the contract, in the exercise of its rights, endangers the UHK values.

Article 4

Protection of the Coat of Arms from Misuse

- 1) The coat of arms is protected as a trademark.
- 2) The UHK executives are required to create conditions at their workplace to protect the coat of arms when using it under these principles. For this purpose, they:
 - a) Supervise compliance with the procedure laid down for awarding degrees and other documents certifying studies at UHK,
 - b) Monitor whether publications, printed documents, and other documents and products denoted with the coat of arms are the result of the activity of the UHK or its constituent parts, and deal, within the scope of their powers, with identified cases of unauthorised use of the coat of arms by a UHK employee for his/her private activity,
 - c) Ensure that the coat of arms is solely used for events organised or co-organised by the UHK or its constituent part and take measures against its misuse for events in which organisation the UHK or its constituent part does not participate,
 - d) Monitor the quality of products and performances in connection with which the coat of arms is used and which are the subject of the UHK business activity; in the case of identifying such quality shortcomings that could damage the reputation of the UHK, they take measures to remedy them.

Article 5

Use of the Coat of Arms as a Trademark

- 1) The coat of arms is registered in the Trademark Register as a UHK trademark¹.
- 2) Using of the coat of arms in cases falling within the subject matter of the trademark specified in Paragraph 1 is protected by Act No. 441/2003 Sb., on Trademarks and on amendment of Act No. 6/2002 Sb., on Courts, Judges, Associate Judges and State Administration of Courts and on change of certain acts (the Courts and Judges Act), as amended (the Trademark Act, as amended). The contracts referred to in Article 3, Paragraphs 1, 3 and 4 of this Annex are licensing agreements under this Act when their subject matter falls within the scope of the UHK trademark. The right to use the coat of arms in such cases shall arise for the acquirer from the date of registration of the license agreement in the Register of Trademarks maintained by the Industrial Property Office.

- 3) All acts to which, pursuant to the Trademark Act, as amended, the trademark owner is entitled to, and the acts related to the negotiations on the extension of protection of this trademark abroad are carried out, as a rule, by the Bursar on behalf of the UHK.

Article 6

Common and Final Provisions

- 1) The coat of arms may be used under the terms set out by these principles only in black and white graphic form, as shown in Annex 1 to the Constitution of the UHK.
